 - g) Youth fair entries that qualify for entry in the Youth Fair premium auction will be sold before the livestock champions. Youth Fair Auction Order: grand champion creative arts and grand champion food, one from each age division (senior, intermediate and junior) will be sold first. The reserve champion creative arts and reserve champion foods will then be sold: one from each age division (senior, intermediate and junior).

Remaining market animals will show for sale order after the judging of the individual classes.
- d) If an exhibitor has more than one lot qualified for the sale, that exhibitor will be allowed to sell only ONE.
- e) The sale percentage of market steers, market lambs, market hogs, & meat goats are to be calculated on 75 premium sale lots.

Divide the total number of all market animal exhibitors into 75, then that percentage of all divisions listed above is to be sold. Only those eligible to compete in the show ring will figure in the percentage. If a person has two animals only ONE will figure in the percentage for the sale. If the animal is eligible to show, the person can show more than one, but he can only sell ONE. Percentage of animals sold is calculated on number of exhibitors, not on number of animals in the class.

There will be a minimum of 12 market steer sold in the premium auction. If the percentage of steers to be sold is less than 12, additional steer lots will be added until the number of steers sold totals 12. There will be a minimum of 10 market lambs sold in the premium auction. If the percentage of lambs to be sold is less than 10, additional market lamb lots will be added until the number of lambs sold totals 10.

The number of broilers and meat rabbits that qualify for the premium sale will be calculated by the same percentage used to determine the quantity of steers, lambs, hogs, and meat goats sold in the premium sale with the maximum number of 10 Broiler lots and 10 Rabbit Meat Pens.

No one species will constitute more than 40% of the sale lots. If this occurs, the other sale lots will be added from the next highest non adjusted species number until the sale lots total 75. This adjustment does not include sale numbers associated with rabbit meat pens and broilers.

20. SALES COMMISSION: A 3% sales commission will be charged on all animals and youth fair items that sell through the premium auction. A 3% sale commission will also be charged to all animals being sold on the Livestock show floor. Foods and crafts will also pay the same sales commission. Sales commission will be charged to exhibitor's add-on contributions.
